NELLIE B. JORDAN, Town Clerk.

School Report.

To the School Committee and Citizens of Cumberland :

Having but recently assumed the duties as Superintendent of Schools of the Cumberland-Falmouth-North Yarmouth Union, to complete the unexpired term of the late D. W. Lunt, I shall deal mainly with general conditions rather than enter upon a detailed statement.

First, I wish to testify to the high esteem in which the former Superintendent was held by all whom I have met in connection with my duties. This attitude may be interpreted in terms of a wholesome spirit of co-operation, which is a most important asset in our school activities. It is indeed gratifying to note such loyalty as is manifested on the part of all the teachers toward one serving in a supervising position for so long a period. It is in keeping with this same spirit of loyalty that permits me to say that every teacher has met me with eagerness to benefit by whatever assistance I may be able to offer. It is a happy beginning.

The schools of a community may be looked upon as the index of its civic ideals. A community that takes pride in its school buildings, and aims to maintain a high standard of scholarship through generous support of thoroughly competent teachers, is looked upon as a desirable home environment. The value of property is enhanced, and such a community may be considered progressive in its truest sense.

It is gratifying to note the sentiment of the school committee in these two respects. Careful consideration is being given to the matter of systematic upkeep of the school property. The committee believes it is not only economy to spend money liberally for needed repairs, but that the bright, attractive schoolroom makes for better results in the regular school work. Probably two or three of the buildings will be thoroughly renovated the coming summer. With the buildings that have already received recent attention, the present policy will soon result in a group of school buildings of which the town may be justly proud.

Generally speaking, the schools are fairly well supplied with textbooks, up-to-date and in good condition. With careful attention from year to year it should not be expensive to maintain a satisfactory book supply. Teachers cannot be too insistent as to the proper use of books on the part of pupils. The individual that has learned to love a book as a friend will not abuse books. Parents can help much in this particular.

Without reference to island conditions, which I shall take up later, I feel that more attention can profitably be given to the matter of increased library facilities, thinking of the Sweetser Grammar School as the logical center, with "floating" sets of carefully selected books to go from school to school. This will not only benefit the schools directly, but it will benefit the several neighborhoods as well. Logically, one of the first results from our educational efforts shows itself in a love of good reading, which, in turn, creates a demand for library facilities. I am sure teachers and pupils will be glad to co-operate in such an undertaking.

TEACHERS.

In a recent publication Dr. Thomas, State Commissioner of Education, has this to say regarding Maine teachers:

"Maine is getting good service from the amount of money she is spending on education.

* * * * *

"Maine teachers are loyal to the extent of patriotism.

They deserve great credit and such compensation as towns are able to give.

"I would urge that school committees and superintendents make an effort to secure a group of trained teachers wherever it is possible. If it is impossible to secure well-trained, well-prepared teachers, towns should take the best teachers they have in their schools and encourage them to attend summer school or possibly take a year at school, constantly building up the staff until it becomes satisfactory in its rating. School officials can do much to bring up the professional rating of the state."

The efficient management of a rural school, organized often with all grades from the sub-primary to the eighth grade, inclusive, is no small undertaking. Few rural schools have less than four to six grades. The teacher must know her business, she must spend money to keep abreast of the times. The community that best appreciates these conditions in the development of the highest type of teaching staff, in the only practical way that really encourages, paying as liberal salaries as possible, will have the best schools.

It gives me pleasure to be able to say that the present Board is unanimously in favor of this attitude. I am sure every reasonable effort will be made to encourage the ambitious teacher to make the most of her opportunities.

In a "Bulletin of Information," just received from the State Educational Department, Cumberland shows a school rate of 9.3 mills, which is fourteenth among the twenty-five towns of the county listed. The average rate for the county is 6.9 and the highest rate 16.99 mills. Thus, while it may be seen that Cumberland is above the average in respect to its school rate, yet there are thirteen towns of the county that show a higher rate. In the matter of municipal rate Cumberland's place is enviable, it being No. 22 in the list of 25 towns. These figures may be interpreted as showing that the town, as compared with its neighbors, is not extravagant in its municipal affairs. We have a right to be encouraged also from the standpoint of future possibilities, which will allow an even more liberal policy without meaning an undue burden to the taxpayer. All of this has a direct bearing upon the building up of the best possible teaching staff. In this connection let me hasten to say that I appreciate the fact that, with hardly an exception, the present corps of teachers is rendering excellent service, and they are deserving of every possible financial encouragement.

MUSIC.

Cumberland is to be congratulated upon the efficient service rendered by Mrs. Floy P. LeGrow as instructor in singing. The schools are visited weekly and the pupils are making good progress in this important branch of our work. Perhaps there is no other one exercise that does the school as much good as a lively half-hour of singing. The regular teacher who is able to direct her class in singing has a decided advantage over one who has not that ability.

I am glad to incorporate Mrs. LeGrow's report of her work for the past year.

To the Superintendent of Schools :

In this report I wish to express my gratitude to the teachers for their effort to make the music in the schools successful, and to those who have so kindly helped with entertainments.

In most of the schools the children show great interest in reading music and in singing, and good progress has been made, the children being able to read both pitch and rhythm.

Last fall the grammar school gave an operetta, "Boy Blue," and the primary school, a minstrel show, all the children taking part. They are to give, during the spring term, "The Quest of the Pink Parasol."

Respectfully submitted,

FLOY P. LEGROW.

FREE DENTISTRY.

The effort on the part of a small group of citizens to provide free dentistry for the school children is certainly worthy of mention. The intelligent care of the teeth from early years is an important part of the individual's education. Much unnecessary trouble often arises from indifference to this matter on the part of parents. More and more progressive cities are providing free dentistry in the schools. It is decidedly an indication of the modern progressive trend for any community to promote this sort of activity in connection with the schools.

THE CHEBEAGUE SCHOOLS.

Three of Cumberland's nine schools are located on the island, the supervision of which is more or less of a "long distance" process. Numerically considered, these three schools are entitled to two days in three weeks of the Superintendent's time, and they cannot well receive more frequent attention, owing to the fact that every visitation to the island occupies two days. This means the teachers are necessarily left very much to their own resources. It requires that these teachers should be selected with the greatest care and liberal thought as to salary.

Here are approximately sixty pupils, ranging from sub-primary to third year high, inclusive. The conditions under which these children are to be supplied with educational instruction are the most exacting of those surrounding any similar group in the entire union of towns. The committee is in perfect accord with this thought and is ready to co-operate to the end that the island schools shall receive every attention due them. It has already been decided to renovate the high school building this season, and make a few important changes in the other two buildings which will add to their attractiveness.

An opportunity is offered here to inaugurate a library center, such as has been heretofore referred to, which it would seem would mean much to the entire neighborhood. It is easy to imagine that many of the summer visitors would be interested to co-operate in an undertaking of this kind. Again I want to emphasize the fact that we are falling short of satisfactory results if the product of our schools has not that love of good reading that creates a demand for at least a modest library. Teaching the individual the mechanics of reading is one thing, stimulating him to love good reading is the real aim in view.

In closing, I wish to express to the School Board and to the teachers my deepest appreciation for their hearty support in the performance of my duties.

Respectfully submitted,

SHERMAN GRAVES,
Superintendent.

Greely Institute.

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL.

CUMBERLAND CENTER, MAINE, Jan. 30, 1926.

Last June the Institute graduated ten pupils and reopened September 8th with the same number of beginners. Three pupils failed to return, so our enrollment was 46. Two pupils have since moved from town and one left school. The attendance has been very good during the three years that the present principal has been connected with the school, but this year has been the best. With the year half completed the per cent. of attendance has been nearly 97%, and only 28 tardy marks have been registered. The entering class has been almost perfect, only three tardy marks having been entered against it in 18 weeks. There is no habitual absentee.

Seventeen pupils are enrolled in the Agricultural curriculum, 13 being in the first and second year class. Fifteen pupils are taking Domestic Arts, four being beginners. The upper hall of the gymnasium is being equipped by teacher and pupils in Agriculture as a farm shop. This has been made possible by repairs to the roof and skylights. It is planned to install a two hundred egg incubator in the basement of the Institute, and a five hundred chick brooder, the old shop being remodeled into a brooder house. Some testing of milk has been done by the teacher, who is a certified tester. We wish that more citizens would make use of the agricultural department.

Mr. John P. Downing, University of Maine, Class of 1925, replaced Mr. Howard on the teaching staff and has proved to be a great asset in athletics. A very successful track meet was held in October, Windham High, Yarmouth High, Pennell Institute and Greely Institute participating. New Gloucester High was obliged to withdraw because of accident.

The boys' basketball team, although seeming to lack promising material, has won more than half of the games played. The girls, although not having a winning team, have participated more freely in the game this year. This is probably due to arrangements being made to have the practice at noon, before the lunch is served.

As usual, the school finds difficulty in financing its extra curricula activities. Almost all games played at home show a deficit and transportation is expensive, even when interested citizens carry the teams at reduced rates.

The hot lunches have been carried on as last year with an average serving of half the school.

The alumni association has provided the school with a fine flag pole and the Class of 1925 presented a nice clock. The following prizes were awarded last year: Chase memorial prize of five dollars for the girl making the best loaf of bread (presented by Mr. Daniel Downs Chase) Miss Frances Hult, Class of '27. Honorable mention, Miss Ruth Tame, Class of '27. Prizes offered by the alumni association: Prize speaking, first prize, five dollars, Lee Adams, Class of '28; second prize, three dollars, Miss Hilda Porter, Class of '27. Prize for highest scholarship, boys, five dollars, Belmont Adams, Class of '26; same for girls, Miss Amy Burnell, Class of '26. Five dollar prize for boy developing the greatest interest in Agriculture, Richard Blanchard, Class of '27. Five dollar prize for the girl making the most progress in Domestic Arts, Miss Alice Vaughan, Class of 28.

The present graduating class numbers nine. The morale of the school is good. A Hi-Y, or branch of the County Y. M. C. A., has been instituted by the boys and at their request Rev. Burton A. Lucas is acting as leader. Mr. Lucas ably assisted a hardworked faculty in preparing pupils for the prize speaking last year and has volunteered to do the same this year. The school has put in footlights on the stage, and on a "fifty-fifty" basis with the trustees have provided new curtains. This will enable more entertainments to be given under the direct supervision of the school. Comfortable seating has been provided, although more chairs should be purchased next year.

The school feels that the trustees have the best interest of the institution at heart and are doing everything in their power to encourage the faculty in conducting a good school. We believe thoroughly in our boys and girls and shall be willing to trust their leadership when they shall take our places.

Respectfully presented,

HOWARD L. WINSLOW,
Principal.
